at 0400 on Saturday 20 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Very wet, especially over the Moors. Coastal gales.

Today:
A cloudy and very wet day, with widespread rain, heaviest over Dartmoor. Some drier spells may occur in the east during the morning. Mild, but this tempered by the rain and strong to gale force southerly winds. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
The rain, still heavy at times, will gradually clear eastwards from Cornwall through the evening and stall over eastern areas overnight. Staying cloudy for all but winds will ease. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Sunday:
Another cloudy day, with outbreaks of rain in eastern areas during the morning and a risk of heavy showers in the west. Feeling mild, with light winds. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Dry and bright on Monday after some early rain in the east. Strong winds return on Tuesday and Wednesday, though staying mostly dry with some sunny spells. Mild throughout.
